

The #harrystylescardigan that sparked a viral DIY challenge

In February 2020, Harry Styles was photographed wearing a JW Anderson patchwork cardigan. As the Covid-19 pandemic unfolded and lockdowns were introduced, many turned to crafts to fill their time. Liv Huffman, an online content producer and artist, crocheted her own version of the cardigan, posting a video of it on social media. It went viral, inspiring thousands of Styles fans to make and share their own ingenious interpretations. Delighted by the DIY trend, JW Anderson shared a free downloadable pattern and tutorial for the cardigan.
